David Monroe Hadley:

David Monroe Hadley (1844 – 1917)

<http://www.hadleygenealogy.net/ghtout/gp756.html> served as a Private, Company G 8th Louisiana Infantry Regiment for the Confederate States of America (CSA). His lineage goes back to our patriarch George. David was born in Cheneyville, Louisiana and was one of about 11 children born to William Peter Gershom Hadley and Lucinda Caroline Howard. David's grandfather was the renowned Rev. Moses Laurence Hadley who was born in Yonkers, NY, moved to the south, and died in Woodville, Mississippi. (We are planning on featuring Rev. Moses in a future Hadley Newsletter). We know there were a number of male Hadleys related directly to Rev. Moses who fought in the Civil War for the Union. It is likely some were in battles where their cousins were fighting for the Confederacy. We are currently researching some of the Civil War battles for the names of Hadleys from both the North and South in an attempt to identify those battles where related Hadley kin could have unknowingly met in battle. Photograph courtesy of James Mark Hadley, Sterlington, LA email: frightcastle@yahoo.com Mark has also shared a wonderful story of David and how he and his wife Sarah eloped against the wishes of her wealthy family. (See attachment: Some brief stories about David Monroe Hadley)

Susanna (Pithouse)Hadley:

John Hadley (1653-1711) <http://www.hadleygenealogy.net/ghtout/gp1037.html> was a son of our patriarch George Hadley (1612-1686). When John died in 1711, his widow Susanna remarried on 19 Nov 1712 to Peter Patee in Gloucester, Essex, Massachusetts. We have Barbara (Hadley) Edge, email: barb.edge@yahoo.com to thanks for uncovering this new data. Barbara uncovered the information that Susanna's maiden name was not Patee as most researchers have thought but that it was Pithouse. Patee was the name of her second husband (or a variation on the spelling as Pittis). This information is found in the rather confusing entry from Gloucester, MA and apparently transcribed incorrectly by the publisher of the book "Peter Patee of Haverhill, Massachusetts: A Journeyman Shoemaker, and his Descendants".

Don't keep Your family History Hidden:

There is an old adage that states: "Folks are more afraid of being forgotten than of dying." This adage is undoubtedly true for some, and most older folks seem more likely to embrace that saying. If this is true, the question can then be asked; "What am I doing to assure a legacy for one or more of my family member?" We invite you to write a legacy of a Hadley family member(s) of things that would not necessarily appear in an obituary. This Hadley Newsletter would be a wonderful place for such an article to appear. For those who do not know, these Hadley Newsletters are being filed with the US Library of Congress and your article about your Hadley relatives can be found there. It is there your article will be preserved for posterity along with a citation of you as the author. Send your submissions to Jim Hadley Jim@HadleyGenealogy.net . Those submissions will also likely appear as notes under your relatives name in the Hadley websites: www.HadleyGenealogy.net and www.HadleyGenealogy.com
