Hadley Family Trees:

Many are now developing their own family tree and putting their specific Hadley data on sites that are hosted by www.ancestry.com or www.wikitree.com Jim Hadley has taken a more “global approach” to our George Hadley line with his website www.hadleygenealogy.net but has not included specific data that other might include about their more immediate family. Some of the more specific data that can be found using the “family approach” include many photographs; wills and probate records; military records and discharge papers; deeds, mortgages and other land records; marriage, divorce, funeral, and burial records; education, work and employment records; hobbies, interests, and special awards; etc. In addition the “family approach” might well include extensive information about in-laws that might be deemed appropriate for their family.

The Hadley Name:

We all know the Hadley name appears in many locations and has been assigned to many natural and man-made structures. Several years ago we listed the 23 towns that have been given the name Hadley. (That list will be repeated in a future newsletter). We are now interested in developing lists of sites with the Hadley name along with their locations. For example, the Hadley name has given to rivers, streams, hills, mountains, roads, cemeteries, etc. Where are they?

Please send to Jim Hadley Jags@hvc.rr.com (845) 339-5363 the location of any site where the Hadley name can be found. Various lists will then be compiled of different sites and will be published in future Hadley newsletters.

We will start a list for Mountains. There is Hadley Mountain http://www.localhikes.com/Hikes/Hadley_0160.asp in the Adirondacks of New York State that has a restored fire tower that can be climbed for a beautiful vista of the surrounding landscape.

US Library of Congress:

We have been invited to submit printed copies of all past and on-going Hadley Newsletters to the US Library of Congress. We are told these copies will be filed under the title "Hadley Family Name Newsletters" and will be located in their History and Genealogy Department, 101 Independence Ave SE, Thomas Jefferson Building, Washington, DC 20540-4660
